

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XIX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1892.

NO. 98

HUSTONVILLE.

—Miss Bettie Carpenter, after a successful term of teaching at Moreland, will resume her duties about the 22d of Feb.

—Miss Kate Bogie, known as one of the finest teachers in the State, will begin her subscription term Monday, Feb. 8th. She has had a school of 57 pupils and her patrons are delighted at the progress of their children. Give her a full school.

—Miss Sadie Ellis, now of Stanford, is visiting her old home. Dr. Fayette Dunlap and C. B. Reid, of Danville, were with home folks this week. Mrs. Robt. J. Lyles has returned to Nashville. Mrs. D. S. Carpenter, of Somerset, is with her parents.

—In emulation of her sister cities Louisville, Covington and Newport's enterprise in furnishing their lively suburbs with numerous bridge communications, Hustonville has recently thrown open to pedestrian travel a new contrivance, which spans the raging Fork just below the Liberty ferry, making three first-class bridges for convenience of the suburban population.

—Miss Mary Jones, a native of this end, and now of Washington county, a daughter of Rice Jones, deceased, is visiting her cousin, Miss Julia Stage. Joe Withers and his brother, Garfield, were visiting Emma's mother last week. It was Garfield's first visit to the West End since he found a refuge here during the enervating sway of colored patriots just after the "civil war was over."

—Rev. W. L. Williams remains in a very feeble condition, his system being severely shattered by his many and various afflictions of the past several years that his reserve is slender and his response to best medical attentions and nursing is slow. May he be rapidly brought to better than his present health and resume his good work, and the devout wishes of his friends and admirers, who are all who know him.

—James P. Bailey was around the latter part of last week prominently laying out the rails which Judge Burch and son let down on their trip the first of the week. Thompson Cooper was here Saturday to show his kinstalk and friends that his nose was grievously misinterpreted by the L. J.'s advertisement for a nose protector and is well of both the collision and incision so sensationally itemized by your leaf.

—A son of Samuel Bishop, of the McCormack neighborhood, had the misfortune to drop his gun while hunting last Tuesday and a load of small shot was lodged in one of his feet, producing a painful wound. As the open season closed the last day of January, the young man ought to have known that something would happen to a violator of the game law. Boys, take warning, and file your guns away till the squirrel crop is ripe.

—What has become of Emmet Logan's goose-bone? We formerly placed abiding faith in his readings of that oracle till its forecasts of the severest winters experienced by Kentuckians in a generation were uniformly followed by tropical weather. Since we have found that these predictions must occasionally be translated, and reversed, our faith is restored in all of them; but we want to find out when to read 'em forward and when backward.

—The McCormack, of color, an honored attaché of Danville's reformatory Mr. Adam Works, was here last week with out proper credentials and our vigilance chief of police promptly apprehended the fugitive and calked the superintendent that his man awaited his orders, but as cipher dispatches and clemency transmissions recently have interposed to muddle matters of international moment so in this case persistent effort failed to obtain an official "message" before the limit of detention had expired, and the culprit had slipped when the minister's dispatch was delivered and translated a casual bell.

—Col. Joshua Brown, an impatient farmer of the Mt. Salem neighborhood, gladdened his numerous friends and relatives by a flying visit last Friday. The colonel's visits are not even annual now. Come oftener, Joshua. Mrs. Lena Leichter, a beautiful young widow of Missouri, is visiting Mrs. Annie Wright, near Middleburg. Mrs. Fannie Hughes, of Louisville, is at her sister's, Mrs. L. F. Steele. Shiel Harrison, a Lexington trader, was here last Saturday on some mysterious errand, which we were unable to unravel. J. W. Alcorn and wife were visiting their cousin, Dr. M. Alcorn, when Capt. Frank White unjustly accused him of helping G. W. across the Delaware, in December, 1875.

"That fellow, Hall, ought to be banished from polite society. He's a perfect booby."

"How so, Mr. Tutchev?"

"You remember that bon mot I made at dinner?"

"Yes."

"Well, he was ill-mannered enough to ask if it was original with me. That shows how unsophisticated he is."

"Yes, nobody but an ignoramus could have thought you were Sidney Smith."

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will give a St. Valentine's entertainment at the Miller Hotel on next Saturday evening and all are cordially invited.

—The parties who stretched wires across the Lexington pike and played havoc generally in Lower Garrard a short time since, have been indicted by the grand jury and the case set for today, Tuesday.

—The debris of the Opera House here has, to some extent, been cleared away in the language of a pious-hearted merchant and tax payer, "There's no use hurrying through life. Let it stay there. It's no trouble to walk around."

—Judge M. C. Sanley was here on professional business Saturday. Mr. E. W. Morrow has returned from Selma, Ala. Miss Nina T. Dexton is visiting Miss Dove Harris. Col. J. Roe Young, of Middleboro, is spending a few days in Lancaster. Miss Julia Reid has returned from Lexington. John Rughman, of Danville, was here Sunday. Edmund Anderson, of Broadhead, is in town. Tan House, of Silver Creek, was here Monday.

—The estimate that is placed upon the opinions of the people by those who are in a position to defy public sentiment is a matter worthy of serious consideration. It is alleged that Wm. H. Vanderbilt used the expression, "The public be damned," and Wm. M. Tweed, when confronted with some great wrong, demanded, "What is the public going to do about it?" This course of reasoning is the result of the belief of those who adopt it, that they are independent of the public and consequently their views and actions need no endorsement. The public is not infallible, but a decent respect for the opinions of mankind is nevertheless commendable.

—The most enjoyable entertainment given in Lancaster for many years was the Leap Year Party at the Holmes House on Thursday evening. The parlors and dining room were beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers, the music was good and the refreshments superb. There was a large attendance from adjoining towns and all were delighted with their reception.

The committee on reception consisted of Messrs. Edna Lusk, Sallie Elkin, Fannie West, Maudie Gurney and Messrs. Curry, Lillard, Walker and Denny. Those who entertained were Misses Mairs, Mary Miller, Albie Marksberry, Maria Cook, Annie Robinson, assisted by their escorts, Messrs. John Doty, John Farr, John Lear, H. Batson, Charles Anderson and Fletcher Owsley.

—People who have trouble growing out of "the law's delay," may take some comfort in learning that a lawsuit brought in the year 1811 is still pending in the Supreme Court of the United States. That august body has placed the case on the list for argument during the present term. The suit is in the 7th year of its age and but for the records the name of the attorney who instituted the same would be forgotten. As it is, he, as well as the parties to the same, have long since been called to plead before a bar where there is no delay in the administration of justice. And whilst there is some consolation in this to those who are constantly grumbling at the delay in obtaining their rights, it can hardly be a precedent worthy of imitation by the magistrates, police judges and others in administering justice in their courts in this age of fast horses, fast men, telephones and base ball.

—It is said that the recent flurry with little Chili caused an expenditure of over $3,000,000 in getting our navy in sufficient repair to make a respectable showing upon the ocean. And now there are those who are howling for appropriations for the construction of fortifications upon our coasts from Maine to Oregon, as though we were upon the eve of war with some of the nations of the earth. There are unmistakable evidences that there is a large and growing war party in this country and they are determined to leave nothing undone to get us into a fight with somebody. Of course it would be easier to whip some little nation that had only a handful of soldiers than one of our own size; but war is war, and if we must have a fight it is a matter of but little consequence how small our antagonist may be. There is not the slightest probability of our getting into trouble if we will only go along and attend to our own business. No nation is interested in disturbing the serenity of our country, and if we will only do unto others as we would have others do unto us, there will be no attempt to invade our ports or to land a hostile army upon our shores. It would probably be for the public good if the government would furnish free transportation to all those who are anxious to fight from this to some country where revolutions are the order of the day and soldiers are needed.

Husband—Twenty-five dollars for the trimmings on a bonnet!
Wife—Yes, and only very plain trimmings at that.
Husband—Plain? Why I could get a beautiful case of delirium trimmings for $25.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—All trains were delayed by a broken car south of Crab Orchard, on Friday, which called out the C. D. and other officials from Rowland.

—Our merchants have up quite a competition since Mr. Slaughter opened up in Crab Orchard and prices are still on the decline for cash.

—Mr. Persifal Case, of the Pineville Bank, was in town Thursday. Mr. M. S. Hancock, of Livingston, came down and purchased a car of hay of Mr. John Buchanan, this week.

—Mr. Vick Owens is visiting his mother, Mrs. Isaac Herrin. Mrs. Irene Bucke and children are visiting her father, Capt. F. W. Dillion. Mrs. Dr. J. G. Carpenter was up Friday to see her father, Mr. James Fish, who is in very feeble health. Mr. Joe Pleasants has gone to Stamping Ground to take a position in the distillery which Mr. Joe McClure is managing there.

—Miss Bryant and son left for their home in Campbellsville, Friday, after getting the Garnett estate settled. Mrs. Bryant was highly complimented in her good management. She has many warm friends here, who regretted seeing her leave. Mrs. E. E. Davis was at her father's a few days, but left for Dillon's Saturday. Dr. J. D. Pettus was called to Dillon's twice during the week to visit Mr. T. J. Richard, who has been very ill at that place. Mr. Ray Garner and wife have been kept busy entertaining their friends. Mrs. J. D. Pettus was called to Dillon's twice during the week to visit Mr. T. J. Richard, who has been very ill at that place. Mr. Ray Garner and wife have been kept busy entertaining their friends. Mrs. J. D. Pettus was called to Dillon's twice during the week to visit Mr. T. J. Richard, who has been very ill at that place. Mr. Ray Garner and wife have been kept busy entertaining their friends.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—Grip, hog cholera and weddings is the programme.

—M. S. McMullin was pronounced insane a few days ago and sent to Ankerage.

—Widder & Moran, liverymen, have dissolved partnership, and he reenter the firm will be T. H. Moran & Co.

—The doctors report a great deal of sickness in the country and the majority is styled the grip. Miss Carrie Cloyd is very low with typhoid fever, but is slowly recovering, the doctors report.

—In answer to repeated inquiries I will say that I did not write the piece about Col. Adams from this place. It was the other man and he is a democrat. I am not, though we are good friends and both love the Extension Journal.

—The shingle factory of this place, under the new firm of McAdams, Collinsworth, Leonard & Co., is doing a fine business, but cannot supply the demand. Collinsworth, one of the new firm, is a pushing, energetic man and will "win" it.

—Owing to some attraction there is something that brings one of Hustonville's young gentlemen here on regular Sunday trips. We will investigate the matter soon and find the cause. Reports are afloat that our young deputy post-master is getting suspicious.

—On last Wednesday, the 3d inst., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Robert Cowan and Miss Ella Coulter were married, and two hearts beat as one. Rev. Davidson, of McKinney, performed the ceremony. The wedding was kept a secret until the hour nearly arrived, when only a few friends and relatives were warned of the fact. Mr. Cowan has won a beautiful woman, who has a host of friends, who wish them a long and joyful life.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—Charles E. Catching left Friday for Michigan, where he will make his future home.

—Born, to the wife of W. D. Weaver, county superintendent, a boy. Its name will be either Cleveland or Hill.

—W. S. Jackson is seriously ill with the grip, having suffered a relapse. Jailor Dan Lovell is not over his throat trouble yet, not being able to get out of his room.

—G. A. Benham, of Whitley county, has announced that he desires to go to the democratic national convention as a delegate, and has some warm supporters here.

—I counted nine men and 11 plug horses from Jackson county Sunday, all of whom were here for the purpose attending jockey street swaps Monday, county court day.

—E. Morgan, who recently built a nice store-room on Railroad street, just below the depot, sold out his entire stock to a country merchant and has gone out of business.

Coro—What! you going to marry Fred Hipple?

Madge—Yes.

Coro—Why, not long ago you said you would not marry him if he were the last man in the world.

Madge—Well, I've kept my word. He isn't.—Judge.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—VAN ARSDALE.—A long and somewhat eventful life closed at 8:30 A. M. Sunday, when Mr. Barney VanArsdale breathed his last. He had been in bad health for a long time and his death was not unexpected. He was born April 30, 1805, and would have been 87 years old in a few months.

From a scrap-book kept by himself we find that he was born on Salt River, in Mercer county, of parents who had moved from New Jersey. There were a number of children and his parents being poor, he had to work hard and scuffle for an education, the rudiments of which he obtained in the old field schools of the day. He was raised on a farm and remained on it till he was 22 years of age, when he struck out for himself. He engaged in the printing business at Harrodsburg and in conjunction with a Mr. Tanner published "The Watch Tower." His partner worked him out of all his savings and they collapsed inside of a year. He then engaged as a clerk in a grocery store, next in a dry goods establishment. The proprietor, Mr. Gabriel Reed, became greatly attached to him and sent him out after a couple of years to establish a branch store. He visited all the surrounding towns and finally decided to locate at Hustonville, then known as New Store, or Cross Roads. They sold goods together for three years and in 1835 he bought out Mr. Reed and continued in the business for nearly 30 years with good success. In 1862 he married Miss Eliza Jane, daughter of Capt. Ben Briggs, the pioneer, and one of the defenders of Logan's Fort, near Stanford, and to them three children were born, one died in infancy and the other two lived to marry and raise families. The child of the elder, now Mrs. Henry Evans, survives; the other, Miss Annie, married Mr. John H. Craig, and she died a few years ago, leaving two sons, Barney V. and Willie N. Craig, the former having died since.

In 1881 he bought his father-in-law's farm and conducted it for several years successfully. The civil war caused him to lose $15,000 and being well advanced in life, he retired from active business and moved to Stanford, where he assisted the conduct of the National Bank till 1870, when, he says, "Having accumulated a sufficient amount of means to render the balance of my life easy, I retired to private life."

Mr. VanArsdale's second wife was Miss Lucinda Harman, by whom he had one child, Miss Belle, now the wife of A. C. Dunn. His last wife, who survives him, was Mrs. Sallie Friederick, a sister of Mr. John S. Hughes.

For 45 years he was a member of the Methodist church, in which he faithfully filled all the positions open to a lay member. He was the largest contributor in his church and the new personage will in a measure stand as a monument to his memory. After a long and well-spent life he goes to his reward, leaving a name for honesty and probity to be proud of.

Mr. VanArsdale accumulated quite a large fortune, but he sensibly divided the most of it up among his three heirs, in the last few years, retaining enough to keep him and his wife comfortable the balance of their lives.

The Rev. W. E. Arnold, preached the funeral discourse at his home at 2 P. M. yesterday, after which the remains were laid to rest in Buffalo Cemetery.

—Robert Walker, of Harrodsburg, died last week from the effects of a kick from a mule over a year ago.

—Gen. J. F. Robinson, son of Gov. Robinson, and well known in the political and military world, died at Lexington Friday, aged 60. He was quarter master general in the Confederate army and during Cleveland's administration was collector at Lexington. He was a very popular man and counted his friends by the thousands. Our county men will pleasantly remember him as the keeper of Crab Orchard Springs, during the time it was in the hands of Commissioner W. B. Welch.

A funny man who asked the question, "Where is the state of matrimony?" received the following expostulatory answer: "It is one of the United States. It is bounded by hugging and kissing on one side and the cradle and the babies on the other. Its chief products are population, broom sticks and staying out at nights. It was discovered by Adam and Eve while trying to find a passage out of paradise. The climate is rather sultry until you pass the tropics of house-keeping, when equally weather sets in with with satiated power to keep all hands as cool as cucumbers. For the principal road leading to that state consult the first pair of blue eyes you run against."

—Chauncey Depew and staff were in great agitation on the arrival of a queer looking box, supposed to contain an infernal machine. Cautious opening revealed three bottles of tonic, which were guaranteed to bring out a luxuriant crop of hair on the Central Railroad President's polished cranium.

—Four men were crushed to death by a falling wall in Glasgow.

The three hangings in Kentucky were very artistically performed. Simpson Bush, who murdered his wife as a climax to a life of crime, and was hung at Stanton, hardly struggled after going through the hole; Wm. Puckett, who clubbed Wm. Hall to death at Irvine, was pronounced dead in five minutes after the drop fell and Robert Charleston, who murdered his mistress, was in eternity almost before the drink of whisky he asked for and got had settled in his stomach. The first two were white men and the third a negro. There was no doubt about their guilt so they contented themselves with assuring the vast crowds, which saw them die, that they were tickled though to the New Jerusalem. It was a good day's work. Let it go bravely on.

Miss Alice Ward, the Memphis girl who covered her friend's jugular with a razor and savagely slashed another girl, wants to hang for the crime. She thinks it would be very romantic to stand upon the gibbet and be the cynosure of all eyes. Her wish will hardly be gratified in this age of sentimentalism against indicting the death penalty on women, but the nature of this girl's crime seems to make her especially worthy to adorn a gallows tree.

The Lexington Leader says that a new democratic morning daily for that city is an assured fact and that it will begin early in the spring. Capt. Samuel M. Gaines will be editor-in-chief and it goes without saying that it will have a capable and excellent head. It is said that the selection of a name is now the most perplexing question, which is a very small trouble compared to the usual one of subscriptions and advertisements.

The cablegrams between this country and Chili since the recent unpleasantness cost $1.70 a word, making a total of about $100,000 for these dispatches alone. But the president was determined to get all the political banishment out of it he could. It is easier to appropriate the public's money for campaign purposes even than to fry the fat out of favored and paupered corporations.

The census of Maysville, just taken, shows that its population of 7,379, there are 277 more women than men. They are most of them pretty women too, and as they will realize that their chances are slim, they will be ready to take "anybody's Lord." The attention of the old rascals hereabouts is called to this rare opportunity to secure what they have been trying all their lives to get—a good wife.

The Kentucky Homestead, issued at Lexington by Messrs. J. R. Marrs, S. G. and B. G. Boyle, fulfills the high anticipations of it, and that is saying a good deal. It has brains, ambition and money to back it and its success is assured. The subscription price is only $1 and every farmer in Kentucky ought to subscribe to it.

Some of the papers are saying that the Louisiana Lottery has shut up shop. This is not the case as it will not go into its hole until 1895, when its charter expires. It has simply announced that it won't pay $1,250,000 for a renewal of the charter since the decision of the Supreme court has comparatively ruined its business.

Just So.—The list of semi-weeklies in Kentucky is small but very select. It includes the Stanford Interior Journal, the Danville Advocate, the Bourbon News and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian. In point of merit they are a sure enough "Big Four."—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

All our people who have given the matter a thought are for a liberal appropriation by the Legislature for Kentucky's exhibit at the World's Fair. The amount suggested by the conference, $100,000, is none too large and and it is hoped that it will be fixed at those figures.

Under the sugar bounty clause of the McKinley bill nearly five millions have been paid out of the treasury this season and claims for a million and a half are pending. All this is clear profit to the manufacturers and comes out of the pockets of the people.

The Courier-Journal and Times not having a picture of Wm. Puckett, the Estill murderer, who was hanged Friday, used the cut they had of the late republican candidate for governor and but few knew the difference. It is as little like one as the other.

We must acknowledge that the Jessamine Journal turned us down by copying our paragraph and heading it "Some people are so techy." There's a good deal of inspiration about the old establishment still.

It took the democratic House two full months to adopt a code of rules, but it was time well spent, if it succeeded in forever wiping out those which disgraced the 51st Congress.

BLAINE is not in it, for he himself hath said it. Read his card in another column.

Blaine Not a Candidate.

The greatest man in the republican party thus lets himself out of the possibilities of a republican nomination for president.

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6, 1892.—Hon. J. S. Clarkson, Chairman of the Republican National Committee—My Dear Sir: I am not a candidate for the presidency and my name will not go before the Republican National Convention for the nomination. I make this announcement in due season.

To those who have tendered me their support I owe sincere thanks and am most grateful for their confidence. They will, I am sure, make earnest effort in the approaching contest, which is rendered especially important by reason of the industrial and financial policies of the government being at stake. The popular decision on these issues is of great moment and will be of far-reaching consequence. Very sincerely yours, JAMES G. BLAINE."

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—In the notice of the marriage of Dr. H. P. Fitzpatrick to Miss Birbie Hicks, at Somerset, the republican says: The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, cedar, etc., and it presented a lovely scene. It was a transformation scene in whose marvelous changes the chill gray mists of winter dissolved into the bewitching splendors of a mid-summer night's dream. Long before the appointed hour the church was thronged with the friends and acquaintances of the happy pair.

—Lambs are coming at a lively rate. Mr. C. Vandy has 51 ewes and 87 lambs, while nearly every one of Will Hubble's ewes have produced twins.

—For SALE.—800 shocks of extra good fodder, 150 tons haled hay, 690 barrels of corn and 40 head 60-pound shoats. Call on G. C. Lyon, Hustonville.

—S. H. Baughman sold to Scroggins Bros., of Louisville, 2 colts and a yearling filly at $300. He also gave to the noted trainers 3 promising young horses to be trained.

—Mr. Willis Hatchell, one of the largest stock buyers in this country, says that he never knew stock to be as scarce. It is very hard to buy enough to make a shipment. He says that there is a very limited amount of stock selling in the county.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

—Business was a little on the look-up yesterday and it was the best court day for several months. Auctioneer Talbott reports 200 cattle on the market and about 100 sold; 3 and 4-year-old cattle brought $5; 2-year-olds $18 to $20, and a few horses were sold at $33 to $110. Mules $78 to $103.

—Mr. Thomas Cecil has returned from the Atlanta market, where he disposed of a lot of horses and mules at very unsatisfactory prices. He says good 15 hand mules are selling at $75 to $90, and 14 to 14 1/2 at $45 to $60. L. W. Hudson has bought of E. P. Woods, of Lincoln, John Hanna, of Shelby, Huttsell Bros. and Wallace Shannon, of Bourbon, over 100 mules at from $90 to $125 per head. They were shipped to New Orleans. Part of these were very fine.—Danville Advocate.

—Mr. George Graham sold four head of the finest steers last week that have left this county for many a day. The average weight was 1,785 pounds. The largest steer weighed 1,850 pounds. The price paid was 4.20 per hundred. L. G. Elden sold to Missouri parties two jacks for $1,000. Mr. Wm. Hardesty sold one jack to Thos. Vancleave for $700. Hayden & Harding bought of Wm. Spaulding a car-load of fine mules at $85 per head—$15 below cost last September. Jo Hayden bought 22 head of extra 3-year-old cotton mules from Wm. Hamilton at $55 per head. Mr. Hamilton paid $58.50 per head for the same mules at weaning time.—Lanham Enterprise.

BARBOURVILLE, KNOX COUNTY.

—Mr. S. T. Steele leaves to-day for Estill, Va., on business.

—Col. R. L. Ewell, Circuit Clerk A. B. Brown and Mr. Theo. Moren, all of London, were in town Friday. Mrs. E. Hurst, of Pineville, and her daughter, Miss Annie, late a student of Stanford Female College, were visiting relatives in Barbourville, this week.

—Mr. W. T. Alhright presented the writer with a nice gold pen Thursday afternoon and says he trusts it may serve as the "quill" with which we may pen many sentences for the new Barbourville Herald. Will, as most of his friends call him, is in every sense an elegant young man, and one of the handsomest, so the girls say, that lives in the "Queen City."

—Through the vigilance of Sheriff John H. Catron's efficient force of deputies a number of the parties who are thought to have burned the store of Mr. T. M. Sampson, last November, have been captured and are now in jail awaiting a hearing. There is some pretty strong evidence against the parties and as Commonwealth's Attorney A. H. Clark has now taken the matter in hand, they will, in all probability get the extent of the law.

—Messrs. "Sam" Owsley and "Joe" Severance, of Stanford, were guests of our city Sunday. By the way, there seems to be considerable attraction here for Stanford's young men and I know a "mighty" interesting little story connected with some of the boys of Lincoln county's capital, who visited Gray's Station not long since, while some of the fair sex of Barbourville were there, but as this letter will get in very late anyway, we will just relieve (?) the curiosity of the L. J. readers by saying it shall be "continued in our next."

H. T. BUSH, REAL ESTATE AGENT, Stanford, Ky.

I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the very best Blue-Grass Lands in Lincoln county. These Farms are all well improved and good rich lands, running in size from 50 to 400 Acres. Considering their locality, their richness and fertility of soil, the convenience of turnpikes and railroads that bring markets right to our door, they are cheaper than the lands of any other county in the State. There is scarcely a Farm in the country so well located.

The country is checked with turnpikes running in every direction. There is not a public road entering the county seat that is not macadamized. We have the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. dividing the country from East to West and the C. & O. R. R. from North to South; the K. C. R. R. from this place to Cincinnati, crossing the C. & O. at Winchester, giving full access to the markets of the whole world. Besides, we have three large Flour Mills in the county that give us a market for all our grain right at home; and the development of the mountain regions of Eastern and South-eastern Kentucky by railroads and the outlet South by railroads has created such a demand for all kinds of cereals and provisions that we can scarcely retain enough for home consumption.

The people are prosperous, generous and kind, believing in Christianity and education. There is a beautiful church building in the county but has a good church and school-house. Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln is a prosperous little city of about 2,000 inhabitants and is the great doorway from the North and Northeast South and from the Northwest to Southeast, and standing as it does going right into the bowels of the undeveloped mountains of Southeastern Kentucky backed up by the whole Blue-Grass region of the State with railroads running through it to all points of the compass, makes it naturally one of the best located towns in the South for manufactures and other enterprises of magnitude. Water Works are now being agitated and right about the town about three-fourths of a mile there could be erected Water Works with very little cost that would supply a city of 150,000 inhabitants with the purest and best water in the world. Our little city has been newly rebuilt in the last few years and its business houses and residences will compare with larger cities of greater pretensions. Our merchants and tradesmen are all prosperous and doing well. We have two banks with a capital stock of $400,000 that are prosperous and in good condition.

We have splendid schools. We have a Female College, a large brick building, with over 100 pupils in attendance and under the principalship of Prof. J. M. Hubbard, is in a flourishing condition. We also have a Seminary that is a good school, with Prof. B. F. Blakeman at its head. We have one of the best Public School buildings in this section of the State, with over 100 pupils in attendance, and with other good private schools, you see our school facilities are excellent. We have elegant church buildings, representing every denomination, with a full corps of ministers of his class talent and are doing a better business than any class of men in the city. I have tried to make this statement as facts, without any exaggeration or coloring, as those who know will bear me out, and those who wish to buy pleasant homes at fair prices and locate among a good people with all the best surroundings, would do well to call and see me before purchasing elsewhere.

The Record says that the court of levy fixed taxation in Garrard at 33 cents on the $100 and made the poll tax $1.50. The property tax is nearly double Lincoln's.

JANUARY has come and gone and our books show that there are still some accounts unpaid. Our friends will please bear in mind that we have been exceedingly indulgent and will consider it quite a favor if they will come forward and settle. Sine and Monede.

J. L. DYVEN was arrested and taken to Louisville Sunday by a U. S. marshal for some trouble about registered letters, while he was mail messenger on the K. C. His friends do not suspect him of anything wrong, but he has been drunk for months and unable to properly attend to his duties. Whiskey will knock the best of them silly.

St. PLUNKARD has had his date changed from Friday, the 12th, to Monday, 15th. Remember the date. The management claims that its leading man, Mr. J. C. Lewis, draws a salary of $300 per week as well as an individual one-half interest, and that they carry an orchestra of eight people that draw a combined salary of $200 per week.

EX-MAYOR BARNES HIGGINS, of Somerset, who was a few days ago released on bail from the Danville jail, where he had been confined on the charge of criminal assault on Miss Woods, of Somerset, was arrested in Cincinnati last week for drunkenness. Higgins is no doubt a bad egg and this behavior so soon after his release will go far toward making the people believe him guilty of the fearful crime with which he is charged.

The magistrates of Wayne county will appropriate $10,000 for building a new jail at Monticello. They have appointed Capt. John W. Tuttle a special commissioner to examine the plans of the best jails in the State and make a report to them. A work-house is contemplated in connection with the jail and also a work yard surrounded by a high wall, the latter to be especially used to give employment to indolent prisoners.

It turns out that little Sallie, the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ephr Woods, is very badly burned and the little one may lose its life as the result. The child was at a cabin, near the house, playing with some colored children and her clothes caught fire. As soon as she discovered that she was in flames she ran towards the house, but the brisk wind which was blowing made the flames larger and the child was overpowered. When reached by assistance her clothes were nearly all burned off and the greater portion of her right side, from the waist up, is fearfully burned. Her neck and right ear are also badly parched.

INVESTIGATION proves that what we called "a cook and bull story" in our last issue is not without grounds, although it is considerably exaggerated. A money order for $25 was issued on Jan. 4, '91, and the attorney referred to, Mr. Waite, of Louisville, did compare and spend a night and day here. Mr. Green, proprietor of the Myers House, remembers having had him a guest at his hotel, but concerning the effort of a burglar to enter his room he is entirely ignorant. The whole thing is a mystery and the most perplexing part is who would be foolish enough to spend $25 to play a joke on his fellow man. The work is evidently that of some crank, but as there are no such liberal cranks hereabouts, we can't imagine who "A. E. South" can be.

The most enthusiastic man we have seen in many a day is Gov. J. G. GIVENS. He is confident he has a gold mine in his mineral springs and sanitarium at Spencer, Ind., which he recently purchased in conjunction with a son of Blue Ribbon, Murphy and an experienced hotel man. It is a regular panacea for all the ills of life and promises to eclipse the Hot Springs in all blood and constitutional diseases. In order to introduce it to the people of Kentucky, the governor is arranging to run a special train from Louisville on the 19th, which will be free to his guests, who will embrace the handsomest women and their escorts. These are to be met at the springs by 50 of Indiana's fairest and a day or two is to be spent in genuine enjoyment. Among those to be invited here are Misses Annie and Mary Alcorn, P. M. McRoberts, J. G. and R. G. Denny. No expense or trouble is to be spared to make it a grand event and one always to be remembered by those who will be fortunate enough to attend.

For SALE.—75 cords of wood at $1.50 in woods; 300 yards from pike on county road. A. M. Feland.

"The handsomest line of white goods and Handkerchiefs I ever saw," is what the ladies say of our stock. Severance & Son.

I WILL take it as my favor if those indebted to me will come forward and settle. I need the money and must have it. Miss Annie Wray.

SEVERAL rains have fallen since Friday, but yesterday was clear and pleasant, showing but little signs of the cold wave promised to arrive this morning.

STRAYED from my home near Highland, several weeks ago, a black horse, eight years old, paces nicely and is in good order. Liberal reward for his return. W. M. Threlkeld.

W. S. BURCH, who is running in his father's name for circuit clerk, because he is not of the constitutional age, announced his candidacy yesterday in a creditable little speech in the circuit court-room.

THE Central Record speaks of our Hustonville correspondent as Dr. Arnold. Don't do this again. Dr. Bohon is justly proud of his name and has no earthly desire to change it to Arnold or any other as far as that is concerned.

Those who caught sight of the beautiful phenomenon of the conjunction of Jupiter and Venus, Friday night, enjoyed a treat never to be forgotten. The two great planets appeared to be one and the light of both was equal to a half moon. Unfortunately the clouds hid the sky for most of the time and it was only at intervals that the scene could be enjoyed.

In response to the post-master-at Hubble, Miss Ella Watson writes us that our papers are never detained in her office, and that she gives them and all mail matter entrusted to her the promptest dispatch. The Danville stage leaves before the arrival of the train, which shouldn't be allowed. Miss Watson hopes with all of us that mail matters on the K. C. will be improved from its late bad handling, now that a new messenger has been appointed.

The writer had the pleasure of seeing the little Stanford favorite, Miss Lavinia Shannon, in a leading character in that popular melodrama, "The Power of the Press," at Masonic Temple, Louisville, a few nights ago, when he found that the extremely flattering newspaper notices of her acting scarcely do her justice. As Julia Seymour she is simply superb. She acts the part beautifully and in the handsome dresses that adorn her shapely figure, she is a picture of rare loveliness. Twice called before the curtain by an audience which packed the house to the walls, she responded with bewitching grace and the applause continued long after she had disappeared. Her ambition is to be a star of the first magnitude and her friends feel sure that it will yet be gratified. She has youth, beauty and talent, and with means to get a start, it wouldn't be long before she would shine resplendent in the dramatic firmament.

In the county court yesterday the will of J. L. Smith was probated. It gives his entire estate to his wife, Mrs. Nannie Lancaster Smith and appoints her executor without security. The will of Capt. James Craig was also probated. It appoints Harvey Helm, Esq., executor, and bequeaths about $10,000 to Mrs. H. T. Harris and daughters, $5,000 to Mrs. Elizabeth Helm, $2,000 each to Mrs. Horace Brown and Dr. S. C. Helm and $2,500 each to Mrs. Frank Walton, Miss Lottie Helm and Harvey Helm. The Lillard children get about $1,000. Provision is made to meet his gift of $1,000 to the Central University Theological School and the entire residue of his personalty is to go to Mrs. Helm's heirs. An inventory shows that the decedent left about $50,000 in bank stock and other valuable property. Mr. Helm qualified as directed by the will without security. Mrs. Sarah White qualified as administratrix of K. A. White. The application of W. G. Holland for liquor license at Kingsville was partly heard and continued until Saturday next.

Mr. Enloe's proposition that House enologies of deceased members shall be delivered on Sundays only, was in the line of sincerity and economy, and was, therefore, rejected. During the first session of the last Congress the working days of a whole month were devoted to these displays of hypocritical cant, many of the eulogies being as false as they were fulsome, and thousands of dollars expended on memorial volumes that nobody but the eulogists ever read. Made a Sabbath and semi-religious service, the perfunctory performances would soon lapse into inane desuetude.

They merely add another pang to death and put another straw on the cowardice and insincerity of the average politician were needed, it is furnished by the two votes on Mr. Enloe's proposed amendment to the rules, the standing vote being 96 to 68 in favor of its adoption. The roll-call shows 91 to 155 against it. This, at least, makes plain the need, if not the propriety, of Congressional funerals.—Lon. Times.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO THE FARMERS.

I am agent for The Central Kentucky Hedge Fence Co., of Lancaster, and offer the services of both myself and the Company to the citizens of Lincoln county. I am very thankful for the liberal patronage received and hope by fair dealing to merit a continuance. Farmers in need of a good fence will find me at the Myers House in Stanford on each County Court day.

Fine Land For Sale.

Having more land than I can manage at my age and the present system of labor, I have determined to sell at a bargain my farm of five hundred and thirty (330) acres, on the Stanford and Danville pike and in seven miles of Lancaster and less than eight miles of the three county seats, of rich blue-grass country.
I think this one of the best stock farms in Central Kentucky, taking into consideration beauty, convenience, water, soil, building material, fencing, etc., etc. All of the land is in grass, except about 50 acres of fresh land for corn and 60 acres in wheat, with timothy sown with it, but enough, as a purchaser would see it before buying. The title is perfect, being handed down from ancestors from the days of the Indians.
Also a detached tract of 1/2 acres, 1 mile from the pike, and 150 acres of extra knobland, which includes Mason's Gap.
A. M. FELAND.

SUCCESSOR TO THE LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD.

Now closing up with the same assets and under the same management.

By provision of its charter, depositors are as fully protected as are depositors in National Banks, its shareholders being held individually
liable to the extent of the amount of their stock therein at the par value thereof, in addition to the amount invested in such shares. It may act as executor, administrator, trustee, &c., as fully as an individual.

To those who entrusted their business to us
while managing the Lincoln National Bank of Stanford, we here tender our hearty thanks and trust they will continue to transact their business
with us, offering as a guarantee for prompt atten-

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD, KY.
Capital Stock.....$200,000
Surplus.....18,500

Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford.
Under the provisions of the National Bank Act
depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $400,000.
Five years' statements of the condition of the bank
are made each year to the United States government and its assets are examined at stated times
by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.

This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1855, then re-organized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1865 and again re-organized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1892, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 39 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of corporations, individuals, firms and individuals respectfully solicited.

The inventory of this bank is composed of
T. J. Foster, of Stanford;
Foreman Reid, Lincoln county;
J. W. Haydon, Stanford;
J. H. Baughman, Lincoln;
M. J. Miller, Mt. Vernon;
S. T. Harris, Lincoln;
J. S. Hucker, Stanford;
G. A. Caskey, Lincoln;
T. P. Hill, Stanford;

John J. McRoberts, Cashier;
A. A. McKelvey, Assistant Cashier.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Dr. B. St. J. Fry, editor of the St.
Louis Central Methodist, is dead.

—The Methodists are building on an average of 14 churches every day in the year.

—Mr. J. B. Bolling has made up a fund
of about $500.00 dollars for the purpose of having a protracted meeting at Johnston's Hall, beginning about the first of March. An effort will be made to secure the services of Elds. J. W. Garner, Allen Ballou and A. C. Taylor.—Somerset Reporter.

The new St. John's church, Louisville, erected in the place of the one destroyed by the cyclone, was dedicated Sunday by Bishop Dudley. The rector was killed by the cyclone and the corner stone is inscribed "To the glory of God
and in loving remembrance of Stephen Elliott Barnwell."

—The admission of women as delegates to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church has been defeated after all; that is the required
three-fourths majority was not secured,
although the vote stood among the membership, 535,148 for and only 183,004 against. The ministers voted 5,002 for and 5,151 against, the majority for being only 149 among the ministers.

Jim McCreary.

Savoyard writes as follows of our excellent representative:

About the year 1867, a young man,
not two years out of the Confederate army, in the cavalry arm of which he had been a colonel, was a candidate for a seat in the Kentucky Legislature from the county of Madison, his disabilities
having been removed by an act of Congress. He was the democratic nominee, and Madison was a democratic county.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the day of the August election, returns were brought in to the democratic headquarters, in the town of Richmond, showing that the democratic ticket had swept the county, and if every vote polled from that hour was republican the democratic ticket would be victorious by an overwhelming vote. At that moment a man came in and said that an old democrat,
living three or four miles in the country
was sick, but if he had a conveyance he could be brought to the polls and would vote. The committee unanimously resolved that it was useless; but the young candidate for the Legislature spoke up and said: "No, it is not useless. Go to the livery stable, get a horse and buggy and bring him to the polls. Have the bill charged to me." It was done, and James B. McCreary's majority was one greater. He was the young ex-Confederate and that was his first race. That is the sort of man he is. There is the key to his success, the key that made him
Speaker of the Kentucky Legislature twice, that made him governor, and that will make him Speaker of Congress before he dies. Like Canth, McCreary is a growing man, and the Congressman McCreary of the 32d Congress is worth a half dozen of the Congressmen McCreary of the 31st. Had he come to Congress half a dozen years sooner than he did, he would be Speaker of that body to-day. He was a success as chairman of the committee on Foreign Affairs, a committee second only in importance to the Ways and Means and Appropriations.
It is no mere compliment to say he made an able and efficient, even an accomplished, chairman of a committee upon which Clay and Webster had not considered it beneath their dignity to serve in a subordinate capacity. Mc-Creary has a life lease on his seat and infinitely he is done with Congress he will make the 5th district known from ocean
to ocean as the McCreary district of Kentucky.

GOSHEN.—We are requested to say that in regard to your Logan's Creek letter of last Friday week, as to side track at Hayden, W. H. Traylor did apply to the railroad company for it and an engineer interviewed Mr. Traylor and the terms were agreed upon, and also added
that a small station house could be built and a post-office established, if five or six neighbors wished it, as an inducement for someone to take care of the place. We don't think there is any prospect for a boom, unless one originates as one did in our neighborhood
last fall, when the correspondent and three brothers called on two of our handsome young ladies and proceeded to boom the place in such a noisy and disrespectful manner that the father appeared and dispatched them in short order, and notwithstanding a hail-storm and intense darkness, it is said that they made about as good time getting away
as was made on any of the race tracks last year. So he still has boom on the mind and cannot tell anything straight.
Ryton.

From data at hand a correspondent of science estimated the vocabulary of a citizen of the United States with a common school education and of ordinary intelligence and reading, at about 10,000 words
and that a well read college graduate,
and of those who have pursued a university course, at from 20,000 to perhaps 100,000. One's vocabulary is usually completed at 30 years of age. At but two words are learned each day the vocabulary at that age would be only 20,000.
Records show that young children acquire words more rapidly than that.—

The Better Half of the Best Man.

The following amusing letter is from
M. Joseph Treadway, the republican county attorney of Owsley, and although not intended for publication, is too good
not to be printed:

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

BOOKVILLE, Feb. 3.—It is said that a hint to the wise is sufficient, but it took something more than a mere hint to convince me that I was one of the delinquent subscribers so often referred to in your excellent paper. You know we are all disposed to shift the responsibility
"onto the other fellow." This time it was the "better half of me" that I was trying to hold responsible. She is the sideshe half, too, by a long shot, and he sideshe is a dyed-in-the-wool democrat
from away up on Goose Creek, and is decidedly in the ascendancy in this house.
So when a bill was offered to appropriate $2 out of any money not otherwise appropriated, and now in the domestic treasury of this institution, to pay for the amount in arrears, it was unceremoniously voted down, without even granting the minority side of the house the customary privilege of discussing the merits of the measure; and a resolution was passed to the effect that your humble servant should draw on his own private treasury (which, by the way, also held all the republican campaign funds
of your aspiring and ambitious subscriber) for the necessary cash to pay for the semi-weekly visits of a teacher that is leading all my family to—to—read poisonous democratic doctrine. But, then, I guess I'll have to hear it, to keep peace in the circle. So find enclosed my check for the amount aforesaid, and stop
my paper only when I tell you to.

Ten Dollars and for Life.

It happened long ago and in a Western mining town. There wasn't a preacher in the place, and when an exceedingly raw young man and woman desired to get married the services of the police judge were called in. He had never had any experience in that branch of his authority, but with true Western enterprise he agreed to tackle the job,
and the culprits were brought before him.

"Stand up," he said, as they seated themselves, and they stood up.

"Come forward to the bar of justice,"
he continued, with a pompous air, and they came.

"Guilty or not guilty?" he asked, as they stood before him holding hands.

"Guilty," your honor," responded the groom.

"Is this your first offense?"

"It is, your honor, so help me."

"Well, there's nothing to do but impose a life sentence on both of you and assess the groom for the costs."

"How much, your honor?" asked the groom, going down in his pockets.

"Ten dollars."

"The groom handed it over.

"Case is dismissed," announced the judge, and the innocent young things marched out of the room as radiant as a June morning when the sunlight kisses
the roses until they blush again.—Detroit Free Press.

A Model Boy.

We know a boy in Lexington who works an average of 15 hours a day, for which he gets $6 a week. Out of that he supports himself, keeps himself supplied with the best of professional books,
and still leaves one tenth of his income
for charity and church. This boy rises quietly, without disturbing anyone else
in the family, at or before breakfast,
makes the fire in his mother's room,
goes down to his store, opens up and returns to his breakfast. He has never used profanity or obscene language, does not touch a drop of ardent spirits and uses no tobacco. His spare time is spent at home, or in the company of his professional superiors. He is helpful to the poor, generous to his mother and sisters and liberal in his expenditures upon his education, but he has not one cent
for strong drink, or for immoral amusements or debauchery. He is as devoted to his employer's interests as if they were his own. His life promotes the welfare of society. He honors his father and mother.—Transcript.

Reflections.

When a man is too lazy to walk around a mud hole, he should not be commended for bravery in walking through it.

If you wish to scold your husband or

it is entitled at least to the forbearance

Safe and Reliable.

"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Vassar, a prominent druggist of commend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable." See and get bottles for sale

AN INTRODUCTION

To the through car service of the Wisconsin Central Lines and Northern Pacific Railroad is unexpected. Its advantages and conveniences have been fully established. It is the only route to the Pacific Coast over which both Pullman Vestibule first-class and Pullman Tourist Cars are operated from Chicago via St. Paul without change.
Through train leaves Chicago every day of the week at 7 p. m. The traveler via this route passes through the most picturesque, interesting and prosperous belt of country in the Western World. There is a society with most striking contrasts (that range from the rolling prairie and the pine forest level
to the highest peaks of the wildest mountain in the world).

There is a series of the noblest cities, towns and villages of every variety and size, from the hamlet of the farm, to the great cities, or the busy metropoli-tans, the greenest and most lasting pastures;
the wildest scenery on the Continent; currents
of air, of sun, of water, of life, of joy, of sorrow,
of the magnificent and their beauty and perfection of comfort in traveling that has never been surpassed.

Passing via the Wisconsin Central Lines for
St. Paul, Minneapolis, Ashland and Duluth leaves
Chicago at 7:00 p. m. daily with Pullman Vestibule first-class and the Central's famous dining cars attached.

In Grippe.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of the grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow.
This remedy also counteracts any tendency of a grippe to result in pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it during the epidemic of the past two years, we have never seen a single case that has not recovered, or that has resulted in pneumonia, etc., and so believe for
